Collection of CM+A Finding Aids

About Archival Finding Aids

A finding aid is a guide to archival records. It describes what records are held in the Archives, who or what created them, how they are organized, and where they can be found.

Unlike a library catalogue, a finding aid does not usually describe every individual document. Archival records are often kept and described in groups that reflect their shared origin, purpose, or relationship to one another. A finding aid helps you understand those relationships and identify the records that may be relevant to your research.

Understanding the Structure

Fonds

A fonds is a group of records created or accumulated by the same person, family, organization, or institution through their activities over time. Keeping these records together helps preserve the context in which they were created.

Series

A series is a group of related records within a fonds. Records may be grouped because they served a similar function, relate to the same activity or subject, or share a common format. A fonds may contain several series and, in some cases, additional levels of organization within them.

Collection

A collection is a group of records brought together because of a shared subject, theme, format, or other connection rather than because they were created by the same person or organization. Collections may have been assembled by an individual, an organization, or the Archives.

How to Use This Finding Aid

You do not need to read the finding aid from beginning to end. Think of it as a map to the archival records and use the parts that are most relevant to your question.

Start with the Table of Contents to locate a fonds, collection, or section that may relate to your research. Each entry is linked to the corresponding description in the finding aid. You can also use the Bookmarks panel in your PDF reader to move directly between sections.

Once you find a promising section, read its description for information about the records, their creator, dates, scope, and organization. Follow the hierarchy from the broader description into individual series or other levels where available. Looking at the broader context can help explain why particular records exist and how they relate to other material.

You can also use your PDF reader's search function to look for names, places, organizations, subjects, or other keywords. Keep in mind that historical terminology, names, and spellings may differ from those used today, so trying several search terms can be helpful.

When you identify material you would like to consult, make note of its reference number or archival identifier. Providing this information when contacting the Archives helps staff locate the records you are interested in.

A finding aid describes the records, it is not the records themselves.

Not every archival record has been digitized or is available online. Finding something in this guide may be the beginning of your research rather than the end. Archives staff can help you determine how to access the original records and identify related materials that may support your research.

INTRODUCTION

Clarence Casey Wells was born at Edenbank Farm, Sardis B.C. on 6 January 1902. He was the grandson of Sardis pioneer Allen Casey Wells and the son of Edwin Allen Wells. While a student at the University of British Columbia in 1919, Wells became interested in radio broadcasting. In 1927, he founded radio station C H W K, largely to promote sales of radios for his employer, a hardware store. In the 1950's he established an aerial photography business, and in the 1960's turned his attention to local history. Actively involved in the Chilliwack Valley Historical Society, he began collecting archival documents, and written and tape recorded reminiscences of Chilliwack pioneers. He published the Anthology of Valley History (a series of pamphlets), and organized guided historical tours of the area. He collected myths of the Sto:lo Indians, and studied the phonetics of the Halkomelem language. He was interested in genealogy, and co-established the Wells Family Society.

Wells was paid a small honorarium by the Chilliwack Valley Historical Society to act as its official Archivist. Following his death on November 11, 1976, his collection became Add. MSS. 1 of the Society's archival collection.

ARRANGEMENT OF THE COLLECTION

The largest portion of the collection was intended to form part of the Community History Research Library (CH/RL) and the Chilliwack Valley Archives (CVA). It was organized according to the Community History Mnemonic Code (CH/MC), an alphabetical filing system devised by Wells and modified slightly during its lifetime. A record of tape recordings, the Reel Record (RR) was also maintained by Wells and organized according to the CH/MC. A collection on Linguistics and Phonetics was organized by its own coding system. Some business and accession records of the Chilliwack Valley Historical Society (CVHS) were found in the collection. Some of Wells' household and personal records (WH) were organized according to the ABCode system which he devised. A large collection of maps of the Chilliwack area are included. Also included were the notebooks of an early settler, possibly Nils Nilsson, and some papers of Oliver Wells pertaining to Edenbank Farm and to B.C. Indians.

The first accession of the Casey Wells papers was donated by his widow, Alice Wells in June 1977. Approximately two-thirds of it, Files 1-558, was inventoried and arranged into 18 subject categories by Marianne Wood and other summer students employed by the Society in 1977. The remainder, some of it fragmentary in character, was left in the original looseleaf binders. In November 1986, these papers were inventoried, retaining Wells' original order as much as possible, by Jim Bowman, as Files 559-684.

On February 28, 1988, an additional 2 meters of Casey Wells' papers mostly pertaining to his business affairs and genealogical interests, was donated by his daughter, Dolly Young of Chilliwack. These papers were arranged and described by Mark Adams and Jim Bowman in May-June 1989, as Files 685-883.

For further information about the Wells' filing systems, see file 656. For information on his system of phonetic notation for Indian names, see file 643.

Portions of this inventory are stored on the disc "Archives Inventories", on the file WELLS.C.

Robert McCaffrey, (born in Madoc, Ontario in 1873) graduated from the University of Toronto, Faculty of Medicine in 1904. After attaining certification from the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons in Vancouver, he established a medical practice in Chilliwack in the Fall of 1904. His rounds took him as far afield as Hope, Harrison, and Abbotsford, by horse and buggy and canoe and boat.

In 1908 Dr. McCaffrey married Rae (Elsie) Chadsey, daughter of a Chilliwack pioneer family. They lived at 15 Mill Street in Chilliwack.

Except for a two year stint, with the Imperial Medical Corps in Greece, during the latter years of World War I, he practiced medicine in Chilliwack from 1904 to 1957, officially retiring in 1952. Dr. McCaffrey was instrumental in establishing Chilliwack General Hospital, and for many years he was the city's official Health Officer. He was a much-respected practitioner of traditional rural medicine.

Dr. McCaffrey's school records, military service records, personal records and collected historical papers were presented to the Chilliwack Museum prior to 1977 (Records of provenance were not kept). His account books and a patient record book (1912-1913) were recovered by John Maddams, a contractor, during the demolition of the doctor's Mill Street home in 1967. These records were donated to the Archives by Ruby Maddams, his widow, in John Maddams' memory in October 1988.

Dr. McCaffrey's licence to practice medicine in British Columbia ^(9cu) is among the Edenbark Farm papers, Add. MSS. 362, File 146a.

FREDERICK WALTER LEE

an inventory of his papers held by the
CHILLIWACK MUSEUM AND HISTORICAL SOCIETY

(Add.MSS. 21)

compiled by

JIM BOWMAN

December 1986

Frederick Walter Lee was born in England in 1863. He studied art at the South Kensington Art School and at the Royal Academy. In 1894 his work came to the attention of the royal family, and this resulted in several commissions from notable persons. His work was exhibited at the Royal Academy and at several provincial exhibitions.

In 1899 Lee came to Canada, initially settling at Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan. After losing virtually all of his possessions in a fire, he set out on a journey across the western United States, supporting himself as an itinerant artist and photographer. He settled in Chilliwack about 1904, and, except for a brief relocation to the Vancouver area, remained there for the rest of his life. Plagued by ill health and various misfortunes, Lee never achieved the success that his early career would have indicated. He was barely able to support himself as an artist and art teacher in Chilliwack, and died in 1948.

Lee's papers held by the Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society include some of his prose and poetry writings; musical works arranged for guitar; photographs; financial records; and his address book. Several of his paintings are also held by the Chilliwack Museum.

Edith Helen "Nell" Patriquin fonds.

1873-1965.

24 cm of textual records.

Administrative/Biographical History

Edith Helen "Nell" Ryder was born in Cheam in 1887, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corey Ryder. She was a teacher by profession, teaching in the Kootenays and at Chilliwack High School prior to her marriage in 1911 to Howard F. Patriquin (1881-1957). She was a member of the United Church, and the Chilliwack Historical Society, researching and writing articles about early settlers. She was the Rosedale correspondent to the Chilliwack Progress for a number of years. She and her husband had one child, Jean, born in 1915. Nell Patriquin died in Nanaimo in 1976.

Scope and Content

This fonds consists of biographies and family histories of early Chilliwack families, histories of churches, schools and community halls, historical writings on Chilliwack in general, and memorabilia.

GALLOWAY FAMILY

(Jonathan Wood Galloway and his descendants)

(Add.MSS. 24)

An inventory of the family papers held by the

CHILLIWACK MUSEUM & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

compiled by

JIM BOWMAN

January 1988

Jonathan Wood Galloway was born at Sutton-on-Hull, England, on January 4, 1856. He became a Methodist missionary, although he was never ordained, and taught school at Coqualeetza Institute in the 1890's. He was also a butcher by trade, and operated a butcher shop in Chilliwack until 1906. He then moved the business to Fraser Mills, but his home remained at Chilliwack. Mr. Galloway was also appointed a Justice of the Peace in 1899.

On January 18, 1899, Mr. Galloway married Willena "Lena" Reece, the daughter of Chilliwack's pioneer Jonathan Reece. Children of this union were:

Jonathan Reece, b. Nov. 25, 1899

Frances Margaret, b. Mar. 26, 1904, m. Thomas E. Owen

Steven Lewis, b. Apr. 6, 1906

James Douglas, b. June 18, 1908, m. Gertrude Alice Bustin.

Ruth Kathleen (adopted), b. Jan. 3, 1920, m. Bruce

George Simundson.*

*Biographical information supplied by Mrs. Frances M. Owen, personal communication, Jan. 6, 1988 - J.B.

The Galloway family collection includes Mr. Galloway's notebooks, ca. 1894- ca. 1896, containing a vocabulary of the Halkomelem language, and hymns translated into Halkomelem. The account book of Mr. Galloway's butcher shop 1898- 1903) has been used as a scrapbook (1925-1954). Other scrapbooks and historical items were collected by Mrs. J. W. Galloway, and by Mrs. Frances M. Owen.

The collection was donated to the Chilliwack Valley Historical Society by Mrs. Owen on May 5, 1972, and on August 30, 1983. The Collection was broken up into Add.MSS. 24, 205, 331, 333, 336, 337, ~~and~~ 338, 987.128, and 986.228 but in December 1987 it was reassembled as Add.MSS. 24.

Mrs. Owen also donated two dinner plates, catalogued as CM728 and CM729, and a collection of loose photographs, catalogued as P4-P6, P10, P68, P83, P99, P150, P162, P217, P302, P1025, P1645, P1658, P1680, P2525, P2626, P5304, P5625, and P7048

This inventory is filed on the "Archives Inventories" disc, on file GALLOWAY.

HARRY J. BARBER

Harry J. Barber was born on March 29, 1875, at Alton, Ontario, where he apprenticed as a pharmacist. In 1898 he arrived in Chilliwack, and established a drugstore in partnership with Dr. J. C. Henderson. He later became sole proprietor of the business. Active in several civic organizations, Barber served as President for the Chilliwack Board of Trade from 1909 to 1913, and Mayor of Chilliwack from 1914 to 1917. From 1925 to 1940 he was Conservative member of parliament for Fraser Valley.

Barber's papers consist mainly of short essays that he wrote in the latter part of his life for compilation as a book, A story of Chilliwack, on the history of Chilliwack. A few other collected essays and clippings are also included.

The papers were acquired by Oliver Wells. They were donated to the Chilliwack Historical Society by Sara E. Wells in 1971.

CHARLES HENRY EVANS

1868-1943

an inventory of his papers

in the

CHILLIWACK ARCHIVES
(Add.MSS.27)

Compiled by

CONSTANCE M. NEWBY

1991

Biographical Note:

Charles Henry Evans was the second son of Charles and Jane Evans. He was born in 1868 in Yale, B.C. After the death of his father in 1871, he moved to Sardis (Chilliwack Municipality) with his family (mother, brother Allen, and sister Ellen).

In 1896, Charles Henry Evans and Maria Marshall of Chilliwack were married. They built their home on Evans Road where Mr. Evans operated a large dairy farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans attended Carman United Church in Sardis. Maria Evans died on December 24th 1911; leaving seven children: George (1898-1917), Cecil (1900-1941), Willet (1901-195), Alice (1903-1967), Viola 904-), Eva (1905-1968), Mabel 1907-1987).

In 1914 Charles Evans married Anne Graham, a school teacher who had come from Ontario. Their son, Charles Graham Evans was born in 1916 (married Margaret McLeod).

Charles Henry Evans died at his home in January 1943. He was buried in the I.O.O.F. Cemetery (Little Mountain), Chilliwack.

Scope and Content:

2 account books, 8 diaries kept from 1896 to 1943 detailed daily descriptions of weather; farm work; business transactions; breeding of livestock, buying and selling cattle, horses, pigs, sheep; shipping of cherries, plums, etc.; milk to Edenbank Creamery, hauling of lumber, gravel, work on roads and dykes.

Complete reports on local elections, many church and social activities; marriages, births, illnesses, deaths and funerals of friends, neighbours and public figures such as Queen Victoria, President McKinley.

These lengthy diaries reveal Charles Evans as a man of great physical strength and determination. He worked incredibly hard even by pioneer standards, had a great variety of interests, travelled frequently on business, and was a keen observer of the world in which he lived.

He wrote not only diaries but poems of local interest which he published himself. Two of these are included in this fonds.

Custodial History:

The account books and diaries were donated to Chilliwack Archives by Mabel Thomson, youngest daughter of Charles Evans, on March 11, 1987, (accessioned as Add.MSS.987.15).

The poem "Chilliwack Pioneer Ladies" was donated by unidentified sources before 1973 (formerly Add.MSS.27).

The poem "Chilliwack Pioneer School Days" was donated by Mrs. Harold Cartmell, 1979 (formerly Add.MSS.49). A second copy was loaned for photocopying March 25, 1985, by Marie Weeden (accessioned as Add.MSS.986.102).

Related Materials:

Other poems by Evans are filed in Add.MSS.1, Files 26, 222, 268, 789, and Add.MSS.324.

Additional materials related to the Evans family are to be found in the Chilliwack Archives.

This inventory is stored on the floppy disc "Archives Inventories" under the filename EVANS.

ROWING EVENTS ENGINEERING COMMITTEE

Vancouver was the designated site for the British Empire and Commonwealth Games in 1954. Because Vancouver had no suitable site for the rowing events, it was decided to create a rowing course by raising the level of the Vedder Canal by means of a temporary dam. Fred Sinclair of Chilliwack, who had been the Chief Engineer of the Sumas Lake reclamation project, was appointed Chairman of the Rowing Events Engineering Committee.

These papers were acquired by Oliver Wells. They were donated to the Chilliwack Historical Society by Sara E. Wells in 1971.

THE BRITISH COLUMBIA ROP COMPANY, LIMITED

SARDIS, B.C.

an inventory of its records held by the

CHILLIWACK MUSEUM & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

compiled by

JIM BOWMAN

November 1987

The growing of hops, the flowers of a perennial vine used for flavoring beer, has been part of the diverse agricultural economy of Chilliwack since 1893, when a small acreage of hops was planted by Theophilus Dunville.

In 1903, the E. Clemens Horst Co., a large agri-business based in San Francisco, purchased the Dunville hopyard, added to it, and later established another hopyard or "ranch" in Agassiz. Incorporated as the British Columbia Hop Co., Limited, these two operations comprised 540 acres by 1912. The Sardis ranch was located at the present location of the Chilliwack Mall, and was apparently the largest hopyard in Chilliwack until 1954 when it was purchased by the John I. Haas Company.

The surviving records of the B.C. Hop Co. were found in an old Haas Co. building and donated to the Chilliwack Museum in 1980. They are essentially samples of routine office records: receipts from 1920 and 1941-1946; shipping bills from 1919-1920, and routine correspondence (mostly with the San Francisco office of the Horst Co.) from 1922. The records have value in that they reveal something of the business practices, technology, and the labour relations practices even of this important large-scale agricultural enterprise.

compiled by

JIM BOWMAN

November 1987

Hilda Leary was the daughter of the early Methodist minister and civic politician Rev. Elihu Manuel. She was married to the popular confectioner and politician Fred Leary. She was a member of the Treble Clef Ensemble, a women's chorus which was active in the 1920's.

This collection consists of sheet music apparently used by the Treble Clef Ensemble; and a program for one of the Ensemble's early recitals.

THE COLLECTION OF CHILLIWACK COUNCIL OF WOMEN
1927 - 1983

INTRODUCTION

The collection relating to the Chilliwack Council of Women dates from 1927 to 1983. The material in the collection was created or collected by the members of the association. They reflect the issues women were interested in during this period of time. It also reveals how women transmitted to government agencies their views on political and economic matters, and their concerns in health, welfare, and education.

The first transfer of the collection was made after 1979, to be followed by a second one in 1983. The collection consists of correspondence, minutes, yearbooks and treasury accounts, and other printed material.

Access to the material is open.

Extent: 5 boxes -- 86 cm.

For minutes of the Chilliwack Council of Women, 1927-1933, see Add. 1159. 264.

HISTORY

of the Chilliwack Council of Women.

The Chilliwack Council of Women was formed in 1927 on the initiative of the Provincial Council of Women. The Council of Women was an umbrella organization of members from different clubs and associations in the area. Five organizations made this beginning in 1927 to increase over the years to 42 associated clubs.

During the worst depression years there was a low ebb in activity of the Council to be revived again in 1934, when 7 more clubs joined. A marked increase took place in the 1940s when 11 clubs joined the Council of Women. In the 1950s the strength of the Council increased with 7 new clubs in the association; but in the 1960s only 3 clubs entered the Council of Women. In the 1970s a new increase was marked by 8 new entries.

The main interests of the Chilliwack Council of Women were in health, citizenship, laws, housing and township planning, community affairs, finances, education, economics, international affairs, arts and letters, social welfare, and in later years mass media. The association informed its members in these fields. They also canvassed and set up needed facilities for local purposes.

The association folded in 1982 with the explanation that many goals had been obtained, also, that today professional institutions were pursuing tasks otherwise taken up by the Council of Women. Too many women have drifted into the work force unable to run for office.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The material given to the Chilliwack Museum by the Chilliwack Council of Women spans the time from 1927 - 1982, a period of 55 years. This allows us to have a look at two generations of women in their activities

The correspondence is only starting in 1968, and is somewhat meager on all levels. It consists mainly of answers written to the association in response to their letters. Only a few of the letters written by the Chilliwack Council of Women are preserved. The local letters reveal some interaction among local agencies; the provincial ones are mainly answers to requests, and on one occasion, a reaction to a decision of court. The national correspondence shows the flow of ideas within the structure of Council of Women, and the few leaves on the international level are in regard to a local woman involved with work in an undeveloped country.

The minute books give insights into the detailed proceedings from month to month. They are all dated and allow to pinpoint certain issues during specific times. The bylaws reveal purpose and structure of the association.

The National Yearbooks are the most numerous and coherent material of the collection. They were not produced by the Chilliwack Council of Women, but reading one of them introduces the reader to the locally produced minutes quickly. They also allow a comparison between the two different levels of Council of Women.

Other printed material has a variety of items. Among them take notice of a brief to the Honourable W.A.C. Bennett, former premier of B.C., biographical notes of national executives of The Council of Women during 1968 - 69, a list of federated societies in Chilliwack, a print-out of the Nestle Co., "Nestle and Infant Formula, Facts and Fallacies," and a print-out of the National Council of Churches in New York, "The Case Against Nestle."

The scrapbooks contain articles from local and provincial newspapers reporting special events connected with Councils of Women.

The display cards of 5 women - Henrietta Muir Edwards, Nellie McClung, Louisa Crummy McKinney, Irene Parlby, Emily Murphy -- reflect the nostalgia and the respect a later generation paid to pioneers.

The financial documents span only the time from 1927 - 1960, because the portion from 1961 - 1982 is not yet deposited with the archive. The amounts of money handled are very small, never passing three digit amounts. The records sometimes tell about the difficulties to collect dues.

The one photograph is from the 21st Conference of the International Council of Women.

The Ethnic Research Study was commissioned by the Chilliwack Historical Society in October 1979.

Jessica Sutherland and other researchers were hired to interview members of various ethnic groups in Chilliwack, photograph traditional artifacts owned by them, and collect research materials on ethnic groups.

The interviews were not recorded, but summaries or verbatim reports are included in this collection. The collection is particularly rich in reminiscences of Dutch immigrants, and of Chilliwack citizens who were familiar with the Chinese community.

The collection, which was initially divided into six record groups, Add.MSS. 257-262, is now catalogued as Add.MSS. 257.

IMPERIAL ORDER DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE
PIPER RICHARDSON V.C. CHAPTER

Revised July 1988

Revised September 1991

The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire is a nationwide women's patriotic and service organization.

In Chilliwack the IODE had its origins during World War I when the Chilliwack Patriotic Relief Society was organized to provide comforts to Canadian soldiers on the battlefield. On May 31, 1916 the Society affiliated with the IODE, becoming the Chilliwack Municipal Chapter. 12 local chapters of the IODE were formed in various districts of Chilliwack by 1919, with the Municipal Chapter acting as both a local chapter and as the umbrella organization for Chilliwack.

The last remaining IODE chapter in Chilliwack, the Piper Richardson V.C. Chapter, disbanded in 1984.

This accession was donated by Mrs. Margaret Lowes, ca. 1979. It contains the minute books of the Chilliwack Patriotic Relief Society (1916), the Chilliwack Municipal Chapter (1916-1950), the Piper Richardson V.C. Chapter (1931-1971), and the Chilliwack Council of Women (1927-1932).

Scrapbooks and other memorabilia of the Piper Richardson V.C. Chapter were donated by Margaret Farrow in 1988.

The 1928-1931 minute book of the Piper Richardson V.C. Chapter was donated on September 20, 1991 by Dorothy Prentice. It had been in the possession of her sister, the late Mary McCaw.

The Regent's Book (1955-1978) and a scrapbook of the Henry Tryon Chapter are filed as Add.MSS. 638. An essay on the history of the IODE in Chilliwack to 1924 is filed as Add.MSS. 552. The financial records of the Chilliwack Municipal Chapter (1940-1946) and the Charter of the Henry Tryon Chapter (1927) can be found in Add.MSS. 648.

SUMAS UNITED CHURCH

an inventory of its records held by the

CHILLIWACK MUSEUM & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

compiled by

JIM BOWMAN

December 1987

In the 1880's the communities of Chilliwack and Sumas had grown too large to be served by the original Methodist Church at Atchelitz Creek. Sumas Methodist Church was built at Yale and Adams Roads, and dedicated in October, 1886.

In 1925 the Church became Sumas United Church.

By 1971 the congregation, which had almost always been too small to support a full-time minister, was declining. It voted to disband, and the final service was held on February 28, 1971. The majority of its members joined Carman United Church.

The surviving records of the Church include the Minute books from 1899 to 1971, some correspondence concerning the disbanding of the Church, and annual reports for 1955 to 1969. It is not known how they came into the possession of the Chilliwack Archives.

CHILLIWACK AND DISTRICT

CANADIAN CLUB

formerly the

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

OF CHILLIWACK

(Add. MSS. 300)

an inventory of its records held by the

CHILLIWACK MUSEUM & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

compiled by

JIM BOWMAN

December 1987

revised July 1988

and January 1991

The first Canadian Club was organized in Hamilton in 1892 as a forum for discussion of current issues. Canadian Clubs were formed in a number of cities, and federated as the Association of Canadian Clubs. A parallel organization of Women's Canadian Clubs was formed.

The Women's Canadian Club of Chilliwack was organized in 1933. Its primary activity was the sponsorship of guest lectures on topics of national interest. About 1950 the name of the club was changed to the Chilliwack and District Canadian Club, although it remained a women's organization until 1959, when its membership was opened to men.

The existing records of the Club date from 1933 to 1964. The Club apparently disbanded in 1964, and the records were donated to the Chilliwack Valley Historical Society in 1973 by its last Secretary, Carrie Kent. The records were initially given the accession number A.73.27. The accession was broken up into Add.MSS. 300, 330, and 332, then recombined into Add.MSS. 300 in 1987.

Additional records of the Club covering the years 1959-1964 were donated by Ken Jessiman in 1988.

A copy of the Club's Constitution and other items were donated by Lorna Shaw on September 15, 1989.

The 1933-1937 Minute Book of the Club was donated by Mary Auld on September 14, 1990.

This inventory is stored on the disc "Archives Inventories", on the file CANADA.CLU.

Sheyaya Club fonds.

1954-1971.

6 cm of textual records.

Administrative/Biographical History

The Sheyaya Club was founded after a series of discussions on papers issued by the Council of Women entitled "Indians of B.C." When the course was finished they decided to form a club since they could see many advantages in continuing this association. On February 6, 1964, forty-eight people met in the Baptist Church hall. The name "Sheyaya" was chosen by Mrs. Mary Charles, a native member from Agassiz, meaning "A Group of Friends" in the Coast Salish language. The following executive was chosen : Archie Annis, President; Ed Kelly, Vice-president;

Scope and Content

The fonds consists of minute books, financial records, membership lists, clippings, collected newsletters, letters, and correspondence.

Shirley Cuthbertson fonds.

1880-1890, 1978. Photocopied, ca. 1981.

1cm of textual records.

Administrative/Biographical History

Shirley Cuthbertson is the daughter of Hugh and Velma (Kipp) Cuthbertson, the granddaughter of William David and Annie (Chadsey) Kipp, and the great-granddaughter of Isaac and Mary Ann (Nelmes) Kipp. William Kipp, grandfather of donor, built a cabin and lived at Cultus Lake from 1937-1955. Donor remembers going to Cultus Lake to spend time at grandfathers cabin and skating at the Cultus Lake roller rink. Shirley Cuthbertson was curator in charge of the education extension program at the Royal British Columbia Museum for many years, and was in charge of a public education collection held by the Ministry of Education. Shirley is a recognized expert on school textbooks used in the province of British Columbia.

Scope and Content

The fonds consists of a letter from William Chadsey to his cousin, May 16, 1890, concerning family genealogy, a diary of William Chadsey from January 1, 1880 to February 22, 1880, and an excerpt from "The Kipp family" by Edward B. Kipp, on descendants of Elizabeth Kipp and Henry Reece.

Accession No. 1997 34, located at D 2 7 4 consists of 10 photographs of the Edith (Walters) and George Ryder family, 4 photographs of the ice storm, 1 photograph of Chilliwack taken from Little Mountain, and 1 framed photograph of Mount Cheam. Accession No. 2000 28, located at D 1 1 6, consists of a Chilliwack Senior Secondary School newsletter from 1976, and a copy photograph showing a front view of the William D. Kipp cabin / tent at Cultus Lake, 1925.

2000 28 1 - Front view of the William D. Kipp cabin / tent at Cultus Lake, 1925. Left to right: Mary Jane Chadsey, Annie (Chadsey) Kipp, Velma Kipp (mother of donor, sitting on banister). "Kampdodarnlittle" visible on front of cabin. Handwritten note with photo reads "our camp, 1925. William D. Kipp #115 lot 1st Ave. built on same lot."

Accession No. 2001 37, located at D 1 3 6, consists of two printed items: 1 souvenir programme for the Cultus Lake Indian Festival, June 7 & 8, 1958; 1 skating ticket for the Cultus Lake Roller Rink, Cultus Lake, B.C.

Edenbank Farm fonds. -- ca. 1870 - ca.1987. -- 2.15 m of textual records. -- 676 photographs. -- 18 sketches -- 54 sound recordings. -- 3 maps.

Administrative/Biographical History

Edenbank Farm was the home of five succeeding generations of the Wells family, who were highly acclaimed for their progressive agricultural practices and leadership in Chilliwack's community affairs.

Allen Casey Wells (1837-1922), a harness maker born in Napanee, Ontario, arrived in B.C. to join the Cariboo Gold Rush in 1862. He was later joined by his wife, Sarah Manetta Hodge (1835-1921), whom he had married in 1859.

Wells opened a harness making business in Yale, but moved to Chilliwack in 1866 to manage the large land holdings of his brother-in-law, Charles Evans. In June 1866, he purchased D.L. 38, a 150-acre lot on Coqualeetza Slough (now Luckakuck Creek). The following year, he pre-empted the adjoining D.L. 261, and moved his family to the new farm. In 1877 he added D.L. 279, bringing the size of the farm to over 450 acres.

A.C. and Sarah Wells had two children: Lillie Jane (Mrs. Ernest Townsley, 1865-1919) and Edwin Allen (1870-1942). An adopted daughter, Mildred (Mrs. A.E.J. Farrow) may have been a cousin. The name Eden Bank (or Edenbank) was chosen for the farm by Lillie Wells in the 1880's.

Edenbank prospered as a producer of hay, root crops, and dairy products. In 1885, Wells established the first creamery and cheese factory in the Chilliwack area, in 1891 he built the first upright silo in western Canada, in 1892 he established a herd of Ayrshire cattle which became famous for its quality, and in 1894 a barn with capacity for 100 head of cattle was built.

The farm business by then was styled "A.C. Wells & Son". The Eden Bank Creamery Co. Ltd. became a separate business in 1896 when four neighbors joined in capitalizing it. The Edenbank Trading Co., a general store established by the creamery in 1907, became a separate business in 1912.

A.C. Wells was a lay leader of the Methodist Church in Chilliwack. He also acted as the community's dentist during the pioneer era, served as a Justice of the Peace, and served as Reeve of the Township from 1897 to 1901.

Edwin Wells assumed active management of the farm in 1912. He married Gertrude Eliza Kipp (1871-1918) in 1892. They had seven sons: Ray Edwin (1894-), Allen Victor (1896-1902), Carman Willard (1898-1902), Clarence Casey (1902-1976), Gordon Ernest (1905-1972), Oliver Nelson (1907-1970), and Ronald Gladstone (1911-). In 1920 he married Margaret Smith (d. 1954).

Edwin Wells was an outdoorsman and conservationist who established the Liumchin area as a popular recreational destination; and created the Luckakuck Bird Sanctuary on a portion of Edenbank Farm. He was Reeve of the Township of Chilliwack in 1931.

In 1939, Edwin's son Oliver Wells became the proprietor of the farm. In 1966 it became a family-owned company, Edenbank Farm Ltd.

Oliver Wells married Sara McKeil (1901-1986) in 1931. They had two daughters, Elizabeth (1933- , Mrs. Robert Purkiss), and Marie (1935- , Mrs. Richard Weeden).

Oliver was an amateur historian and ethnologist. He was President of the Chilliwack Historical Society from 1957 until his death in 1970, and was the author of several articles and pamphlets. He recorded numerous interviews with native elders, and was instrumental in reviving traditional native crafts as an economic enterprise. His death in an automobile accident in Scotland left much of his work unfinished, but in 1987 an anthology of his writings, The Chilliwacks and their Neighbors was published, largely through the efforts of Marie Weeden.

Following Oliver's death, Sara Wells lived on the farm with Richard and Marie Weeden and their children, Shelley, Geoffrey, and David. By then, it was almost surrounded by urban development, and was no longer viable as a farm operation. In 1981 it was sold to be developed into residential condominiums.

Custodial History

A small collection of ephemera relating to Edenbank Farm was donated to the Chilliwack Museum by Marie Weeden on January 28, 1981 (accession no. 981.37). Other single items were donated on May 20, 1971 (985.2.2); March 21, 1985 (986.101 and 986.102); October 22, 1985 (986.146); July 5, 1984 (986.224); December 17, 1986 (986.255); and January 23, 1979 (987.106).

The largest portions of the Edenbank Farm fonds, consisting mostly of the farm's business letters and Oliver Wells' papers, book, and photographs, were donated by Mrs. Weeden on December 10, 1987 (987.180) and March 29, 1988 (988.38).

Scope and Content

The fonds consists of a number of different subgroups related to the operation of Edenbank farm, Wells family ethnography interests, and to individual members of the family.¹

Included is an album of photographs collected by Edwin Wells' second wife Margaret, reflecting her occupation as a missionary teaching at Coqualeetza Institute, as well as her scrapbooks. Edwin Wells and Marie Weeden's scrapbooks and photographs are included as well.

¹Other scattered business letters, personal letters, and genealogical compilations of the Wells family can be found in Add.MSS.1, the Casey Wells papers, particularly files 660-669, 741-821, and 882. Most of the early photographs of the Wells family can be found in P.COLL. 42, the Casey Wells photograph collection. Some of Oliver Wells' ethnological field notes on the Squamish and Nooksack Indians are in Add.MSS. 1, files 670-684.

The fonds also consists of a large aggregation of records pertaining to First Nations people in Chilliwack, including subject files, photographs, sound recordings, transcripts of interviews, drafts of articles, and publications concerning the Stó:lō people. Also included are some business records of his native crafts and publishing ventures, and the drafts and photographs which were published in the final version of The Chilliwacks and their Neighbors.

I.Miscellaneous subgroup. -- 1888-1980. -- 18 cm of textual records. -- 2 photographs.

The subgroup consists of memorabilia and ephemera donated to the Chilliwack Museum and Archives by the Wells family between 1971 and 1986.

Photographs of Rev. Peter Kelly numbered as P5327 and P6715.

THE CHILLIWACK CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
(formerly the Chilliwack Board of Trade)

(Add.MSS.381)

an inventory of its records in the
CHILLIWACK ARCHIVES

compiled by

JIM BOWMAN

revised May 1991

History

The Chilliwack Board of Trade was incorporated on September 18, 1903. In common with Boards of Trade or Chambers of Commerce elsewhere in North America, it was organized to represent the interests of the business community and promote conditions for business.

The Board of Trade was inactive from 1917 to 1920, but by the 1930's it had again become a powerful, dynamic organization, organized into "bureaux" (standing committees) which met to deal with issues of concern to various sectors of business and agriculture.

To encourage visitors to the community, the Board sponsored the annual Cherry Carnival from 1927 to 1955. This tradition of organizing community festivals was revived in the form of Country Living Days in 1968.

As early as 1911 the Board began publishing pamphlets to promote tourism and investment in Chilliwack. From the 1960's onward a major focus was the operation of tourist information offices both downtown and near the Trans-Canada Highway.

In 1952 the Board began an annual tradition of honoring a Citizen To Be Recognized.

Around 1960 the name of the Chilliwack Board of Trade was changed to Chilliwack and District Chamber of Commerce. In May 1980 it became the Chilliwack Chamber of Commerce.

Scope and content

This fonds contains documentation of much of the activities of the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce, although there are some gaps.

The surviving minutes cover the periods 1929-1936, 1971-1985, and 1988.

A chronology of Board of Trade history based on 1903-1937 minutes exists, however.

The fonds also includes the By-Laws adopted in 1903, 1967, and 1974; scrolls presented to some of the Citizens To Be Recognized; and various other items.

Custodial history

The 1903 by-laws were presented by the Chilliwack Chamber of Commerce in April 1982 (Add.MSS.982.20). The bulk of the fonds was presented by the Chamber on February 17, 1987 (Add.MSS.987.5). Recent Minutes were presented in April 1991 (Add.MSS.991.30 and 991.35). Some miscellaneous items in the fonds came from other sources, some of them undocumented.

Related items

The seal of the Chilliwack and District Chamber of Commerce is part of the Chilliwack Museum artifact collection, CM176.

The series of formal portraits of Citizens To Be Recognized has been described as P.COLL.77. The 1952-1986 portraits have also been filed individually, from P5361 to P5394.

Some pamphlets published by the Board of Trade have been filed individually, as Add.MSS.202, 203, 210, and 212.

Some 1948-1955 Board of Trade records can be found in Add.MSS.514, the Atkins Stage Lines Ltd. fonds.

An historical sketch of the Board of Trade is contained in Add.MSS.26, File 10, the Harry J. Barber papers.

A scrapbook reflecting Tom Robertson's activities with the Canadian Board of Trade in 1949 can be found in Add.MSS.668.

Data storage

This inventory is stored on the file CHAMBER on the 5 1/4" disc labelled "Archives Inventories 2" at the Chilliwack Archives. A second copy is at the Chilliwack Museum.

Imbert Orchard collection.

1963-1964.

31 sound cassettes + outlines.

Robert Imbert Orchard (1909-ca. 1990) worked as a radio producer for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, specializing in programs about the early days of the province. The 22 interviews conducted in the Chilliwack area in 1963 and 1964 formed the basis of the book Floodland and Forest: Memories of the Chilliwack Valley (Victoria : Provincial Archives, 1983).

The original Orchard sound recordings and notes were acquired by the Provincial Archives of British Columbia in 1974.

The interviews are rich in reminiscences of pioneer life and events in Chilliwack from about 1860 to about 1914, as well as a few Indian legends from the pre-contact period.

Finding aids: outlines, transcriptions of some interviews, subject and interviewee indexes.

Restriction: The recordings and transcriptions are not to be copied, broadcast, or published without permission of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Recordings purchased from B.C. Archives and Records Service, July 7, 1987, funded by the Chilliwack Retired Teachers Association in memory of Don Few, Mary McCaw, Pam Koczapska, and Hart Colclough.

Introduction

Eric Stanley Atkins', entrepreneurial career began at an early age. Born in England on January 23, 1906, he operated a bicycle repair shop while still in his teens. After immigrating to Canada in 1924, he apprenticed as a mechanic with Johnson Motors (located at 7th & Main in Vancouver), then worked for B.C. Motor Transportation, a subsidiary of the B.C. Electric Railway. From 1928 to 1930 he worked for Harrison Lake Transportation Co., owned by Frank Barnes, which had a contract to carry passengers between the Harrison Hot Springs Hotel and the CPR Station at Agassiz.

Returning to Vancouver, he worked as a mechanic for Woodward's Department Store until 1934, when he opened his own service station at Granville & 64th.

In 1938, in lieu of payment of debts owed, Atkins acquired the assets of the Harrison Lake Transportation Co. The influx of military personnel to Camp Chilliwack in 1942 resulted in a territorial and economic expansion of the business, and Atkins Stage Lines Ltd. was incorporated in 1943. Atkins also operated a service station at Cultus Lake from 1942 to 1948.

At its peak, Atkins Stage Lines operated 20 vehicles, covering a territory from Harrison Hot Springs to Cultus Lake. However, the increasing affluence of the 1950's resulted in the replacement of bus transportation with the automobile, and the company's bus service ceased in 1963, although it continued to hold a contract for transportation of mail until 1968. Eric Atkins died in 1990.

Eric Atkins presented the Chilliwack Museum with an architectural drawing of a bus waiting station on November 5, 1979 (oversize folder no. 3 in oversize box no. 10); some clippings were presented in December 1983 (file 1). The bulk of Add.MSS. 514 was selected on April 3, 1987, from Mr. Atkins' records at his home at 45076 Vedder Mountain Road, R.R.3, Sardis, B.C. V0X 1Y0. Mr. Atkins retained possession of approximately one metre of ledger books and bus mileage records, which were considered to be of inconsequential historical value; it was his intention to dispose of them.

The Rosedale Athletic Club

An inventory of its records held by the Chilliwack Archives.

Inventory completed by Michael Avery September 1991.

A group of Rosedale young men formed a Sportsman's Club as early as 1903-04. A baseball league was formed including, Agassiz, Hope, Chilliwack, and Rosedale. The Rosedale games were played in farmer's fields while the other teams had regular ball parks. In 1909 the Rosedale team decided that it was time Rosedale had a park. Charles McCormick offered the Sportman's Club a piece of property, (still the present ball park) for $800.00. On Februray 24, 1910, a deposit of $10.00 was paid by Alex Mercer and a bill of sale was made out to the Rosedale Sportsman's Club.

A meeting was held in the Orange Hall in Rosedale on February 24, 1910 and the Rosedale Athletic Club was formed and registered under the Societies Act. The initial officers were: Honorary President, Councillor Robert Mercer; President Alex H. Mercer; and Secretary-Treasurer R. B. Thompson. The purpose of the club, stated in the charter, was "the improvement and development of the mental and physical condition of the young men and women and providing means of recreation, exercise, and amusement by means of an athletic club". They have lived up to that charter to the present day.

In 1928 the club built the Rosedale Community Hall. It continues to be an active force in the social and recreational life of the community.

This fonds was donated by the Rosedale Athletic Club* on August 27, 1990 (Accession no. 990.76). The contents consist of minutes from 1910 to 1983 (with a gap between 1913 to 1922), membership lists from 1929 to 1983 (with gaps throughout), account books from 1930 to 1979, Old Time Dance Club record books from 1947 to 1961, plans of Rosedale Community Hall, pictures of their 60th anniversary (1970), and a few miscellaneous papers.

*File 54, a pamphlet published for the Rosedale Homecoming in 1985, was donated by Fred Bryant on July 10, 1985.

The Brett Family

Add MSS. 616

Accession no. 986.158, 987.83, 989.12, 989.56, 990.109,
990.111, 990.113, 991.60, and 991.71.

Inventory was completed by Michael A. Avery November 1991.

Richard Brett married Emma Trethewey in what is now known as Mission. Richard operated one of the first stores in the area and also owned his own sawmill. In 1899 Richard and Emma Brett moved to East Chilliwack. Richard was elected several times to the school board and served four years as a municipal councillor. Emma was given a rural mail delivery contract and she carried it through faithfully regardless of the weather. Emma and Richard had three sons and a daughter, Earl, Enos, Roy and Beatrice (as well as two children who died in infancy). Enos Brett, a World War I veteran, was killed in a plane crash in 1928. Richard Brett died in 1925 and his wife followed in 1958.

Earl Brett was born on April 4, 1896 and at the age of three moved to East Chilliwack with his parents. From a very early age he proved himself to be a very enterprising individual. His first job as a young boy was to deliver mail from the main post office in Chilliwack out to the smaller ones at Cheam, East Chilliwack, and Elk Creek. Another one of his youthful enterprises was operating a trap line.

In 1912 he took a job at Fred Hart's bicycle shop and garage. Within a couple years he had bought half interest in the shop and installed the first gasoline pump in Chilliwack. As well Mr. Brett took on a line of Delavalle milking machines (believed to be the first in Chilliwack).

In 1917 Mr. Brett became a Ford dealer and later sold the business. He also went in with "Happy" Wilkinson in a taxi business as well as the Central Livery Stables (He also married in 1917 to Helen Dandell). Around 1923 he bought back the Ford dealership and in 1930 switched to General Motors, making the business the second oldest GM dealership in the lower mainland. Mr. Brett has also ventured successfully in the logging and gold mining industries.

Of course one of the major things people in Chilliwack remember about Earl Brett is his involvement in aviation in the area. He has been president of the B.C. Aviation Council as well as a founding member of the Chilliwack Flying Club (which was instrumental in the building of the Chilliwack Airport). He was also involved in the origins of the Abbotsford Air Show that is still being held every year.

Earl Brett acquired his first airplane in 1927. He flew for 450 hours before he had his licence and it wasn't until an inspector seized his aircraft in Vancouver that he finally obtained his pilot's licence. Mr. Brett not only passed his licence, but for awhile held an Engineer's ticket and a commercial licence, as at this time you had to be able to do your own maintenance.

During the war he was one of the few (if not the only) private owners of aircraft in all of Canada that was allowed to fly. This was due to the fact that he was flying to service his logging operations at Harrison lake. the R.C.A.F. let him fly provided that he would provide ambulance service to the other 14 logging camps on the lake.

Earl Brett loved planes so much that he had one mounted on the top of his car dealership. That plane, a World War II Fairchild-Cornell, became a familiar Chilliwack landmark for years. In June of 1977 it was removed and sent to the Pacific Aviation Museum at Richmond.

In April of 1976 Chilliwack acknowledged Earl Brett's contributions to the community by appointing him the 24th Citizen-to-be-recognized.

Through his many ventures and accomplishments, Earl Brett made his niche in Chilliwack history. He died at the age of 92 in 1988.

This collection was donated over a period of over five years by Earl Brett's son Harold Douglas Brett (commonly known as Doug Brett) from 1986 to 1991.

The contents of this fonds, as far as the textual records go, mostly deal with the family auto dealership Brett's Ltd. There are other records covering legal papers, various organizations, and businesses that the Brett family has been involved in as well as correspondence.

The photographic material covers a broader range of topics mostly covering logging, gold mining, and a large scope of family photos. There is also a collection of 8mm motion picture films which cover a lot of the Brett logging industry as well as aerial shots and early Cherry Festival footage.

An oral history interview of Doug Brett, made in January 1991, was accessioned as Acc. 1991.9.

JESSIE DE WOLF HIGGINSON
an inventory of her papers
in the
CHILLIWACK ARCHIVES

compiled by

JIM BOWMAN

1986-1987

Jessie De Wolf was born in Quebec City in 1876. Other than a sister who died in infancy, she was the only child of William Henry De Wolf and Fanny Elizabeth Tilley. Her father was a broker of lumber and cotton, and the family lived in Quebec in the summers and in New Orleans in the winters. In 1891 Mr. De Wolf retired to Vancouver for health reasons, and in 1892 the family moved to Chilliwack.

Jessie De Wolf became interested in becoming a kindergarten teacher, and in 1897 began correspondence lessons with Jessie C. Lobdell, a noted educator of Ridgebury, Connecticut. Miss Lobdell accepted no payment for the lessons, apparently motivated by religious faith. The correspondence between the two women is interesting for its revelation of the mores of the time.

After completing her course, Miss De Wolf opened what was probably the first kindergarten in Chilliwack. She ceased teaching in 1905 when she married James Higginson of Sardis. She raised three children and was active in the life of St. John's Anglican Church, Sardis, until her death in 1948.

The bulk of the Jessie De Wolf Higginson papers were presented to the Chilliwack Archives by her daughter, Mrs. Edith M. Barr of Sardis, in 1986. Additional papers and a completed questionnaire giving further biographical information were presented by her other daughter, Mrs. Emily Tingle of White Rock, in 1987.

CHILLIWACK BUSINESS AND

PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

an inventory of its papers held by the

CHILLIWACK MUSEUM & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

(Add.MSS. 637)

arranged by Mary Armstrong (1986)

inventory by Jim Bowman (1987)

The Chilliwack Business and Professional Women's Club was founded in May 1947. It was part of a provincial, national, and international network of women in business and the professions whose origins date back to the 1920's.

The Chilliwack Club met monthly to hear guest speakers, for social activities, and to promote charitable causes. In common with other "B & P" clubs, it lobbied for the rights of women, promoted their economic advancement, and encouraged them to pursue careers outside the home. In this, the organization preceded the feminist movements which was developed in the 1960's. One of the most significant activities of the Chilliwack Club was the bestowal of a "Woman of the Year" award, to honor women for their contributions to the community.

By 1982 the Club was faced with a continuing decline in membership. The majority of members were past the age of retirement, and few were willing to serve on the executive. Several other organizations of younger women had become active in promoting the original goals of the club, and so it was decided to disband.

The collection donated to the Chilliwack Museum in 1983 by Mary Van Horne includes the three scrapbooks kept by the Club's Archivists from 1947 to 1982; a series of mounted photographs of the Woman of the Year awards from 1957 to 1979; numerous loose snapshots and negatives; the club Minutes from 1978 to 1982; and collected ephemera and correspondence representing the period 1980-1982.

(July 1987)

Aeronautical activities have figured prominently in the history of Chilliwack. After World War I, a branch of the Aero League of Canada was formed, and several prominent citizens pursued an amateur interest in flying. Initially, farmers' fields served as airfields.

In 1945, the City of Chilliwack and the Township of Chilliwack jointly purchased the site of the present Chilliwack Airport. In the same year, the Chilliwack Flying Club was organized. Its principal activity was conducting instruction in aviation, but it also contracted to provide services to the Municipal Airport, and organized social events as fund-raisers. In 1947 it constructed a unique octagonal hanger and terminal building.

In 1986 Chilliwack Flying Club member W. "Curly" Chittenden gathered club records and memorabilia from various club members. This collection was presented to the Chilliwack Museum in July and October 1986.

BIOGRAPHICAL INTRODUCTION

Edward Dodsley Barrow was born on September 29, 1867 on a farm at Ringwood, Hampshire, England, to Stephen and Sarah (Barnes) Barrow. On December 24, 1891 he married Millicent Emily Knight Whittle, a widow with three children (Leo, Carrie, and Laura - Mrs. Louis Bissette of Rosedale). A daughter, Dorothy Millicent, was born in 1896, and Hilda Gladys was born in 1906.

Barrow emigrated to the Fraser Valley in 1892 and worked at various jobs. By 1896 he had saved enough money to purchase 71 acres on Camp River Road, which he cleared and farmed. This property later became the A.D. Rundle farm.

Barrow served as Councillor of the Township of Chilliwack in 1905-1907, but was unsuccessful in a bid for the position of Reeve. He was a Director, then President of the Chilliwack Creamery Association, and was the first President of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association in 1917-1918.

In 1916 Barrow was elected as the Liberal M.L.A. for Chilliwack. In 1918, when John Oliver became Premier, he was named Minister of Agriculture. His major achievement in government was the Sumas Lake Reclamation Project, which was completed in 1923. He demonstrated his faith in the project by moving his farm to "The Cottonwoods", on Yale Road just east of the Vedder Canal. Local fears of economic competition caused by the project contributed to his electoral defeat, however, in 1928.

In 1922 Mrs. Barrow died, and in 1928 E.D. Barrow married another widow, Mrs. Ralphia Weir Stitt McLean, a noted Conservative of Nakusp, B.C. Ralphia died in 1934 on the eve of the Barrows' return from a trip to England. She is buried in Ringwood.

E.D. Barrow served another term as M.L.A. from 1933 to 1937. Following his second defeat, he returned to full-time farming. He served as first president of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture in 1935.

E.D. Barrow was honored as the Chilliwack Board of Trade's first Citizen to be Recognized in 1953. He died on December 28, 1956.

Barrow's daughters, Dorothy and Hilda, who were both nurses and were both unmarried, managed the farm after his death. Hilda died in October, 1963, and Dorothy died in April, 1981. He has two sisters, Alice Jane and Emily, and a brother, Albert, who also lived in Chilliwack, but it appears that they died without issue.

Further biographical information on Barrow can be found in The Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association : Successful Cooperative by Morag Elizabeth Maclachlan (unpublished M.A. thesis, University of British Columbia, 1972), p. 262 - 267.

ORGANIZATION OF THE COLLECTION

The Barrow papers were conveyed to the Chilliwack Museum following the death of Dorothy Barrow in 1981. They were inventoried by Kristen Mundstock and Mary Armstrong in July 1986. This inventory was further refined by Jim Bowman in August 1987.

Of the 150 cm. of the Barrow papers, about 40 cm. represents his career in provincial politics, his involvement in agricultural cooperatives and organizations, and the Sumas Lake Reclamation Project. Newsletters of the Chilliwack Rotary Club (1937-1957) are included.

About 30 cm. represents the Barrow family's personal and household papers, including political and club papers of Ralphia Barrow from before her marriage and the papers of Hilda and Dorothy Barrow following their father's death.

Approximately 25 cm. of the collection reflects the business and production records of the Barrow farm, ca. 1919-1962.

The division of the papers into political, personal, and farm categories is not exact, and the researcher is advised to consult the entire inventory before searching for papers on any particular aspect of Barrow's life.

The collection also includes three boxes of photographs, a box of newspaper clippings, and a box of framed certificates and awards.

(Add.MSS. 648)

held by the

CHILLIWACK MUSEUM & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

arranged by KRISTEN MUNDSTOCK (July 1986)

inventory by JIM BOWMAN (August 1987)

This collection represents the activities of three generations of the Henderson family in Chilliwack.

John Cotter Henderson (1853-1929) was the son of pioneer merchant Samuel Henderson. He settled in Chilliwack after taking his medical degrees in Glasgow in 1886, becoming the community's first resident physician. His medical diplomas are included in this collection.

Dr. Henderson's son, Harold Leslie Henderson, (Aug. 29, 1893 - July 19, 1985), was a bookkeeper who became Superintendant of The Borden Company's condensed milk plant in Sardis, from 1939 to 1947. The collection includes business records from the plant. The I.O.D.E. financial records in the collection may have been his wife's.

Harold Henderson's son Kenneth Stanley Henderson (Sept. 18, 1929 - May 18, 1973) was editor of the Chilliwack High School newspaper and later a trustee of the Chilliwack Historical Society. The collection includes the High School yearbook (the Frontiersman) and newspaper (the Tatler) and a scrapbook documenting the activities of the Historical Society.

The Henderson family papers were conveyed to the Chilliwack Museum & Historical Society by George Langbroek, the executor of Harold Henderson's estate, in 1985. Some of the items were presented to the Kilby Provincial Park museum, which later transferred them to the Chilliwack Museum. Some artifacts in the collection were designated as Artifact Accession no. 986.25.

Heritage Preservers of Rosedale and District fonds.

1910-1990.

77 cm of textual records

164 photographs

Administrative/Biographical History

The Heritage Preservers of Rosedale and District was formed in 1985 for the purpose of editing and publishing a book on the history of their area. With the aid of two grants from the New Horizons Administration of Health and Welfare Canada, they succeeded in the production and sale of one thousand copies of "In the Shadow of Mt. Cheam". Their purpose fulfilled, they met for the last time in December 1989 and disbanded.

Includes 14 negatives.

Scope and Content

The fonds consists of drafts of articles and original photographs used in the book "In the Shadow of Mt. Cheam". Also included are the group's business correspondence, and some original archival documents, essays, and photographs pertaining to the Rosedale area but not used in the book.

An inventory of the records held by The Chilliwack Archives

Inventory completed by Michael Avery, August 1991

On October 24, 1985 The Heritage Preservers of Rosedale and District came together for their first official meeting, with one purpose. That purpose was to publish a historical account of the region containing the communities of Camp River, Rosedale, Popcum and Cheam View, in the eastern end of the Chilliwack Valley in British Columbia. The Heritage Preservers of Rosedale and District began chronicling this history before 1985 but it was really after the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Rosedale Athletic Club that gave their group renewed energy.

Two grants from New Horizons Administration of the Department of Health and Welfare, Canada were given to The Heritage Preservers of Rosedale and District. With renewed energy and funding they produced their book "In the Shadow of Mt. Cheam" in 1988. One thousand of the books were printed and sold after which the bank balance of the organization was donated to community works in the surrounding area.

Their purpose fulfilled, The Heritage Preservers of Rosedale met for the last time on December 14, 1989 and moved to disband. A handful of seniors with some government funding had managed to fulfill their goal, with the publication of their book the history of their region would be safe.

For the most part, the records of The Heritage Preservers of Rosedale and District revolve around their published book "In the Shadow of Mt. Cheam". Photographs used in the book as well as rough copies, rough and final drafts of the stories in the book comprise a great deal of this collection (Note some stories or photos found in the book will not be present in this collection as some have been returned.)

Also in this collection are photos and stories of the Rosedale District not used in the book, correspondence, and a few articles of historical significance. The correspondence in this collection includes letters from writers of the book, businesses, and various government agencies (mostly dealing with the research and funding of the book).

So in summary the material in the collection is either used in the book "In the Shadow of Mt. Cheam" or is somehow related to the book or the organization Heritage Preservers of Rosedale and District.

This collection was donated by Fred Bryant, Laurie Anderson, and Mary Person on behalf of The Heritage Preservers of Rosedale and District on the following dates; July 6, 1989 (Acc. Merry Go Round Club fonds.

1923-1979.

12 cm of textual records.

Administrative/Biographical History

The Merry Go Round Club was organized in 1923 as a social and self-improvement club for women. Membership was limited to between 15 and 17 women who met on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. The last meeting of the club was held in 1979 when it was disbanded.

It has been suggested that the name of the club came from the practice of rotating the location of the meetings around the member list.

Scope and Content

The fonds consists of minutes of meetings with gaps from 1941 to 1943, and 1972 to 1975, various photographs of members, correspondence, and a collection of miscellaneous newspaper clippings.

An inventory of the records held by the Chilliwack Archives.

Inventory completed by Michael Avery October 1991

Add. Mss. 698

Mrs. Agnes E. Stammers, a grade one teacher, was elected president of the Merry Go Round Club on the date of their first meeting, November 29, 1923. The club was formed as a social and self-improvement club with membership limited between 15 to 17 women. All through the years the members have met on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month with the exception of the summer months. The club's main purpose was to provide social activity for its members. The last meeting of the club was on April 12, 1979, the reason being the fact that many of its members were now too old to attend.

It has been suggested that the name of the club came from the practice of rotating the location of the meetings around the member list.

This fonds was donated by Katherine Evans July 12, 1982 and accessioned April 25, 1987 (Accession no. 987.26).

The contents of this fonds consists of minutes of meetings (with gaps in 1923 to 1928, 1941 to 1943, and 1972 to 1975.), various photographs of members, correspondence, and a collection of miscellaneous newspaper clippings.

A copy of this inventory is stored on the disk "Archives Inventories No. 3", on the file MERRY.TXT.

Neil Grainger fonds.

1976-1987.

24 cm of textual records.

Administrative/Biographical History

Neil Grainger first conceived of a project to recognize and commemorate soldiers who had died during the second world war. Co-sponsored by the Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society and Branch No. 4 of the Royal Canadian Legion, Grainger organized a series of expeditions to mountain peaks, streams and lakes named in memory of men from Chilliwack, Aggasiz, and Hope. The project became known as the Mountain Project.

Scope and Content

The fonds consists of files on each of the servicemen.

THE MOUNTAIN PROJECT

COLLECTED AND ARRANGED BY

NEIL GRAINGER.

CHILLIWACK MUSEUM & HISTORICAL SOCIETY

1989

Add. Mss. 699

Neil Grainger first conceived of the Mountain Project in 1976, when he climbed Grainger Peak, named after his brother Frank, who had perished during World War 11.

Co-sponsored by the Chilliwack Museum & Historical Society and Branch 4 of the Royal Canadian Legion, the Project involved a series of expeditions to mountain peaks, streams, and lakes named in memory of men from Chilliwack, Agassiz, and Hope killed during the War. Another aspect of the Project was to collect biographical information on the men for the Chilliwack Archives, in order to ensure that "they will be remembered".

The completion of the Project was marked on November 11, 1987 with an exhibition at the Chilliwack Museum and a banquet at Evergreen Hall in Chilliwack.

ARRANGEMENT OF THE COLLECTION

Files on each of the servicemen were maintained and arranged by Neil Grainger. Most files contain a photograph of the serviceman, a photograph of the expedition, a participant's account, a newspaper article, and possibly other material. Further work in arranging the collection and compiling the inventory was done by Nuala Boyd and Jim Bowman in January 1989.

Inventory filed as MOUNPRO on "Archives Inventories" disk

An inventory of the records held by the Chilliwack Archives

Inventory completed by Michael Avery October 1991

Add. Mss. 771

The Chilliwack School District was created on June 16, 1870. The school was built in 1871 by the Government and aided by settlers but it was not opened until about the middle of September, 1872.

New buildings were erected on what is now the site of the Southgate Shopping Centre in 1907 and 1911 and continued to be used until 1929 at which time the present Central School was erected.

Mr. Harold K. Manuel was made the first principal of Chilliwack Central School when it opened on October 1929.

Subsequent growth of the City of Chilliwack has led to the construction of Little Mountain and Bernard Schools which has relieved the pressure of enrollment at Central.

Central School (Chilliwack) has also been known as: Chilliwack School (1872 - 1882); Upper Chilliwack School (1882 - 1884); Centreville School (1884 - 1896); Chilliwack School (1896 - ca. 1911).

Donated by Miss E. Kerr June 15, 1981 and accessioned August 26, 1987 (Accession no. 987.77)

The bulk of this fonds is taken up by school registers and staff lists. As well there are newspaper clippings and various miscellaneous papers. Also there are 188 colour slides of Central as well as a couple of photoprints.

Chilliwack Land Company fonds.

1883-1921.

12 cm.

Based on its advertising in the local newspaper, the Chilliwack Land Company is known to have existed from June 1917 to November 1922. It dealt in real estate brokerage and conveyancing, and general insurance. Its principals at various times included George Robertson, W. McKirdy, G. H. Campbell, and H. T. Thompson.

Provenance of this fonds is attributed to the Company on the basis of its rubber stamp marks which appear on many of the documents dated from 1918 to 1921. It is not known how these records came into the possession of the Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society, although the Society's records indicate that they were accessioned before 1984.

These files consist largely of deeds and mortgages related to property transactions in Chilliwack. They are of intrinsic interest, in addition to providing information on settlement and land values in the community.

Title from internal evidence in the fonds.

Charles Montgomery Tate fonds.

1874-1880, Photocopied [197?].

6 cm of textual records.

Administrative/Biographical History

Reverend Charles Montgomery Tate was born in England in 1852 and came to North America when he was 18, sailing first to New York, travelling west to San Francisco, and eventually north to Nanaimo. He became a lay missionary in 1870 and was transferred to Chilliwack in 1874 where he stayed until 1880. He was then sent to Nanaimo, but was transferred back to Chilliwack in 1884 and eventually opened a school, Coqualeetza Home, in 1888. He died in 1933.

Scope and Content

The fonds consists of memoirs and diaries.

History Note

Rev. C.M. Tate was born in Northumberland, England, on November 5, 1852, and received his early education in the United Presbyterian Church.

He came to Canada when he was 18 years old, sailing from Liverpool to New York. He then travelled west to San Francisco and north to Nanaimo. His first job in Nanaimo was working for a mining company. In 1870, he became a lay missionary and arrived in Chilliwack in September of 1874. It was here where he made friends with many of the pioneers and Native people of the area. He left Chilliwack in 1880 after being transferred by the church to Bella Bella but was transferred back in 1884.

With a grant from the Women's Missionary Society, he and his wife opened a school in their home. It was such a success that they received another grant and built a school. The Coqualeetza Home opened in 1888 but was unfortunately destroyed by fire in 1891. It was then rebuilt, only this time it was much larger.

In 1894, Rev. Tate was transferred to Victoria where he worked on the East Coast of Vancouver Island. He died in 1933.

The diary kept by Rev. Tate gives a wonderful look into his life work and of life in the Fraser Valley in the late 1800s.

Custodial History

C.M. Tate's diaries and memoirs were acquired by the Provincial Archives of British Columbia. Copies of portions pertaining to Chilliwack were made for the Chilliwack Valley Historical Society in the 1970s and a transcript of the diaries was prepared by the Society.

Scope and Content

Tate's memoirs and diaries provide insights into the lives of pioneers of Chilliwack during the period 1874-1880. His perspective as the community's religious leader makes these papers all the more significant.

CHILLIWACK & DISTRICT AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

An inventory of its records held in the
CHILLIWACK ARCHIVES

by

NUALA BOYD and JIM BOWMAN

January 1989

The Chilliwack Agricultural Society was formed as a result of a meeting on May 7, 1873, and was incorporated under the Agricultural Societies Act of B.C. on May 7, 1874. It was one of the earliest institutions of the community.

From the beginning, the main function of the Society was to organize an annual fall fair, to encourage agricultural development. The fair was at first held on various members' farms, but purchases of land from Isaac Kipp in 1884 and 1887 established the first Fairgrounds - the block bounded by Wellington, Mary, Princess, and Edward Streets. An Agricultural Hall was completed there in 1887. In 1909 the Fair was moved to the present Fairgrounds on Spadina Avenue, and these were expanded in 1936 when the City sold a group of lots along Corbould Street to the Society.

By 1893 the spelling of the Society's name was changed to "Chilliwack Agricultural Society" in its minute books. Around 1897 it became the Chilliwack Agricultural Association. On October 30, 1969 it became the Chilliwack & District Agricultural Society.

The Society continues to manage the annual Chilliwack Exhibition, and act as an umbrella organization for various agricultural clubs and interest groups.

PROVENANCE OF THE COLLECTION

The collection of Minute Books (1873-1927, 1936-1970) of the Society, together with correspondence documenting property ownership by the Society was deposited in the vault of the Chilliwack Municipal Hall on September 4, 1975. On November 30 1987, it was transferred to the Chilliwack Archives by Patricia Carnegie, Secretary-Manager of the Society. At that time, Minutes for the period 1976-1981 were also transferred.

ORGANIZATION OF THE COLLECTION

Arrangement and description of the Society records was done in January and June 1989 by Nuala Boyd and Jim Bowman.

The inventory is filed as CHWKAGR on the "Archives Inventories" disk.

CLUB 28

AN INVENTORY OF ITS RECORDS IN THE
CHILLIWACK ARCHIVES

COMPILED BY:

PAT KOTY

JULY 1992

The History of Club 28.

After 1½ years as Sardis Memorial I.O.D.E., Club 28 was formed on February 8, 1951 as a local service and social group for young mothers. Many of its members were new to the area due to relocating after the war. They organized as a service to benefit the community. They limited their numbers to 28 so they could meet in each others homes.

Their main project was helping the Coqualeetza Hospital in Sardis, but other funds were also raised and donated to Sunshine Drive, the Red Cross and Valley Haven. The money raised came from three main fund raisers; a Halloween tea, a garden party and the Hop Yard Rummage sale.

After 28 years of service members of Club 28 received a special award on behalf of their efforts.

Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society

Accession no. 988.49

Inventory completed by Michael A. Avery
December 13, 1991

The origins of the Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society could be said to go as far back as 1903 (ca.). Horatio Webb and his Chilliwack Pioneer Association were collecting archival material from about 1921. His association was responsible for collecting the group of 64 portraits of pioneers who had lived in Chilliwack before 1871. Copies of these photos were donated to the City of Chilliwack and the Township of Chilliwack. These same photos now hang in the Programming Room of the Chilliwack Museum. Horatio Webb died in 1936, taking the life of the Chilliwack Pioneer Association with him.

In the early 1940's Clarence Casey Wells attempted to organize The Chilliwack Historical and Pioneer Association. They held their first meeting in January 1940 and even had the minutes of the meeting broadcast on radio a little over a year later. Not enough interest was generated in starting a historical society so The Chilliwack Historical and Pioneer Association died in its infancy.

Years later in the 1950's interest was renewed in the idea of a historical society. The editor of The Chilliwack Progress wrote on the need for Chilliwack to save its heritage in 1956. The first general meeting of the Chilliwack Historical Society was Wednesday, April 10, 1957 in Chilliwack Senior High School. A constitution was drawn up and Oliver N. Wells (Casey Wells' brother) was elected the first president.

March 11, 1958 marked the opening of Chilliwack's first museum in a room in the Nowell Street police station. From this first secure location the museum was able to launch exhibits that included nature painting by Allan Brooks, photographs from the Dr. Jack Barber collection, exhibits from the Rock and Jade Club, and Canadian paintings loaned from the Vancouver Art Gallery. The museum later moved to the old library in 1962 (now the Chilliwack Community Services Building).

A major development in the forming of Chilliwack's Archives came in 1966 when Casey Wells received permission from the society to operate the Chilliwack Valley Archives from his own home. He was paid an honorarium and until his death in 1976 he ran the archives.

On January 21, 1971 the society changed its name to Chilliwack Valley Historical Society.

Thursday, December 2, 1971 marked the day a new wing of Evergreen Hall was completed. It would be the new home of the museum. It was named the Wells Centennial Museum in honor of the Wells family's contributions to the museum and community. The new museum provided more work and exhibit space and an area for the expanding archives.

In September 1981 the society changed its name again, this time to the Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society. Also in 1981 the society received use of the old city hall on Spadina Avenue. The society struggled to get funding that would renovate the building, and after five years they finally succeeded. Six months later in 1987 the museum had its grand opening at the new location. The museum also changed its name to the Chilliwack Museum. The old location at Evergreen Hall was also renovated for use of the continually expanding archives as well as storage facilities for artifacts not on display at the museum.

This collection is made up primarily of correspondence, minutes and financial records of the Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society as well as a small file of newspaper clippings and various memorabilia.

INTRODUCTION

This fonds was collected and compiled by Lydia Goertzen, working under the direction of the Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society, in the summer of 1982, from previous heritage inventories.

The bulk of it consists of files on buildings and sites of possible heritage value, filed alphabetically by street name. Photographs and textual information collected separately from 1972 to 1984 also included in the collection.

Much of the material was re-filed into acid-free folders and envelopes, and this inventory was prepared, in July 1990 by Jim Bowman, assisted by Karen Klassen, Dorothy McCutcheon, and Mary-Ann Van Woudenberg, in July 1990.

A copy of this inventory is stored on the floppy disk "Archives Inventories", under the filename "Heritage".

FileDescriptionB.C. Heritage Trust Student Employment Project

This project was undertaken by Lydia Goertzen during the summer of 1982 under the direction of the Chilliwack Museum and Historical Society. Its object was to compile information gathered in heritage surveys in 1972, 1978, 1979, and 1981.

The files are alphabetical, arranged by street name and house number. For buildings located in the former City of Chilliwack, the old street number is added in parentheses.

An appendix contains excerpts from Architecture of the Fraser Valley, a report published in 1972; the Guide to Historic Chilliwack, a pamphlet compiled by Dorothy McCutcheon and Gordon Schroeder and published as a supplement to the Chilliwack Progress in 1979; and the Heritage Site Inventory, a report compiled by the Chilliwack Heritage Advisory Committee in 1981.

Because most of the file folders contain only one or two items, they have not been replaced with archival file folders.

	Card/Map Survey, 1978 A map of Chilliwack, with a grid pattern imposed. Sites and buildings of possible heritage value are marked on the map. A series of 3"x5" file cards, arranged alphabetically by grid co-ordinates, describes each site.

FileDescription

Each card contains the map co-ordinates; a code indicating whether a building (1) or site (2); a brief description or name of the site or building date of construction; historical notes; the date of completion of the card; and the initials "J.E." (Jamie Erickson, a student working on the Farm Research Project in 1978).

The purpose of the survey was to identify physical evidence of early agricultural activity in rural Chilliwack; it was particularly concentrated on the Atchelitz and Ryder Lake areas.

Architectural Survey, 1979

Files compiled by volunteers and students employed by the Chilliwack Valley Historical Society, under the supervision of Gordon Schroeder.

The files cover mainly houses in the City of Chilliwack. Worksheets for identified buildings were completed, and grouped into files for the nine taxation divisions of the City (lettered A,B,C,D,E,F,H,I, and K). The worksheets contain references to photographs which were taken as part of the project. In the form of 35 mm. negatives and contact prints (and a few 3"x5" prints), these are arranged by roll number and negative number. Catalogued as P.COLL. 95.

Slides, 1979

A collection of slides, mostly contemporary photographs, but including some copies of archival photographs, depicting buildings of possible heritage value, architectural details, and street scenes. The slides were partially arranged according to a complex filing system, but records of their original order were lost, and some were filed in the Picture Collection as P6869 to P6905.

The slides are accompanied by manuscript notes for a narration, which imposes an arrangement by geographical area. The author of the photography and the narration is unknown, but the narration is annotated in the handwriting of Gordon Schroeder. Catalogued as P.COLL. 34.

Hart Building

This research file was compiled by Gerry Britton, a researcher for the Chilliwack Valley Historical Society, in 1981. It was removed from the Heritage Inventory by a member of the Chilliwack Heritage Advisory Committee sometime between 1982 and 1986, and returned by Andrew Purdy, former Chairman of the Committee, on November 19, 1990.

CHILLIWACK HERITAGE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

an inventory of its records held by the

CHILLIWACK ARCHIVES

Accession no.s 988.102, 990.60, 990.88,

compiled by

(1st draft) August, 1990

The Chilliwack Heritage Advisory Committee was constituted on August 25, 1980 by the "Heritage Advisory Committee Establishment By-law, 1980, No. 75" of the District of Chilliwack, pursuant to the Heritage Conservation Act of British Columbia. Its constitution was revised as the "Heritage Advisory Committee Establishment Bylaw, 1987, No. 982."

The Committee was established as an independent body of five members, "to make recommendations and to advise Council on matters of a heritage nature." A member of District Council was appointed to attend Committee meetings as Council Liason.

The Committee participated in several projects for the maintenance of heritage buildings and developement of sites of historical interest. At the request of District Council, it worked in cooperation with the Planning Department to advise on heritage matters. One of its chief accomplishments was the identification of approximately 400 buildings or sites of heritage value and the publication of a pamphlet, Chilliwack, British Columbia: an illustrated inventory of Class A heritage buildings: selections from an inventory of older buildings in Chilliwack and District. (Chilliwack: the Committee, 1985).

In January 1990 three of the five Committee members resigned, as a result of differences with Chilliwack District Council (see Chilliwack Progress, January 17, 1990). This event signified a break in continuity of the Committee's function.

CUSTODIAL HISTORY OF THE RECORDS

A group of records of the Committee were deposited in the Chilliwack Archives by Malcolm Wright on March 26, 1986. These included the Committee's files on heritage buildings and sites, compiled mostly in 1984 and 1985; research notes; photographs and subject files containing reports and correspondence related to the Committee's projects and other matters.

These records were accessioned as Add.Mss.988.102. Because of a request by the Committee that they be treated as active files (and subject to modification), they were not inventoried until August 1990. Two small accessions, Add.MSS.987.44 and Add.MSS.989.15, were integrated into the fonds at this time.

Because the files of the 1986 accession did not include a comprehensive set of the Committee's minutes or correspondence, the Chilliwack Archives approached all former members with requests for donations of their personal holdings of Committee records. These are appended to the fonds.

FileDescriptionInventory of Class A Heritage Buildings

Files on 34 buildings considered by the Committee to be "of heritage significance." Research information was compiled in 1985 by John Oddy and Judy Robb, and was published in the pamphlet selections from an inventory of older buildings in Chilliwack and district.

Chilliwack British Columbia: An illustrated history of Class A heritage buildings:

This series consists of files on 25 of the 34 "Class A" buildings. Each file folder was identified by a red index tab label, and contained photographs in an attached pocket. For conservation reasons, these files were refoldered. The filing arrangement, alphabetical by street name, was reconstructed from partially disorganized files.

File folders containing no information

The Heritage Advisory Committee identified a number of buildings and sites as having possible heritage value. File folders with index tab labels indicating the name and date of the building or site were prepared, but worksheets and other data were not compiled.

The folders have been retained to indicate what buildings and sites were identified by the Committee. The folders for each category are filed alphabetically by street name.

14 folders (with pink index tabs) for sites.

7 folders (with yellow index tabs) for barns.

105 folders (with orange index tabs) for houses.

10 folders (with black index tabs) for government buildings.

Elk Creek Waterworks Ltd.

(Ken Jessiman's donation)

An inventory of the records held by the Chilliwack Archives.

Inventory completed by Michael Avery September 1991.

Elk Creek Waterworks was incorporated in 1905 for the purpose of supplying water to the City of Chilliwack and the Township of Chilliwack. Elk Creek serviced the Chilliwack District for 75 years until the District of Chilliwack bought the company outright for five million dollars in December 1980.

This fonds was donated by Ken Jessiman on March 5, 1990 (Accession no. 990.19). Mr. Jessiman was a director of Elk Creek Waterworks Ltd.

These records reflect the financial situation of the company as well as minutes of the meetings from circa 1965 to 1980.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

A fair amount of the documentary history of C.H.W.K. Radio has survived. However, a lot has been lost. For some years, a great deal of material has been preserved, for others, practically nothing. However, despite the gaps, there is still enough for the researcher to piece together a fairly comprehensive look at the station history.

The greatest loss, perhaps, is in the area of sound recordings - few pre-tape era recordings have survived on disc - and little material on tape from the fifties, sixties and seventies has withstood the ravages of time and of the bulk eraser.

The C.H.W.K. archives spans the years from 1927 to 1977. In most cases, the documents have been filed according to their originating office within the radio station, i.e.: president's office, manager's, news director, etc.

However, particularly during the early days of radio, there was no clear division between offices and duties - sometimes one person would perform many duties - and this is still true today at smaller stations.

It is therefore sometimes difficult to pinpoint the exact year in which an office was created...but an attempt has been made to determine that as closely as possible.

The inventory is divided into fourteen series under the general record group heading of "C.H.W.K. RADIO."

As a final word: it should be noted that Casey Wells had a keen interest in preserving local history. In addition to founding the radio station in Chilliwack, Wells also helped found the archives at the Chilliwack Museum. A large quantity of Wells' papers are preserved there. It is therefore most appropriate that the records from the station he founded should be added to those already stored at the Chilliwack Museum.

RECORD SERIES 14 DISC AND TAPE RECORDINGS 1939-1982

Includes samples of C.H.W.K. broadcasts as well as aural history tapes on development of station.

A number of old acetate and aluminum transcription discs have been transferred to tape...including a broadcast of the 1939 Royal visit to Chilliwack, the June 1947 20th anniversary programs...as well as old station identifications and promos. The original fifteen surviving discs are stored at the Provincial Archives in Victoria - Sound and Moving Image division, with tape copies at the Chilliwack Museum.

The aural history tapes include interviews with Casey Wells (1967), Jack Pilling (1977), Murdo MacLachlan (1977), and Dennis Barkman (1977)...as well as very brief memoirs from twenty other former employees of the station - recorded in 1967 and 1977.

YARROW
RATEPAYERS
ASSOCIATION

AN INVENTORY OF IT'S RECORDS
IN THE CHILLIWACK ARCHIVES

COMPILED BY :

PAT KOTY

DATE: OCTOBER 19, 1992

HISTORY

The Yarrow ratepayers association, founded in the late 1970's was founded on a variety of political questions; planning, roads, drainage, recreation and general provision of services.

The association also coordinates recreation and sports in the Yarrow area, as well as hosting a variety of dances and social events every year in the Yarrow Community Hall. The community's annual summer festival, Yarrow Days, has been organized by the associations since 1980.

CUSTODIAL HISTORY

The newsletters and minutes were collected by two members of the executive of the Yarrow Ratepayers Association, Carol Cerniuk and Marjory Hilliard. They were donated to the Chilliwack Archives on June 17 and June 19, 1992, respectively.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The newsletter and minutes of the Yarrow Ratepayers Association reflect the organizations interests and activities from 1980 to 1992. A copy of the District of Chilliwack's Community Plan (1980) is also included.

Chilliwack Fish & Game Association

An inventory of the records held by the Chilliwack Archives.

Inventory completed by Michael Avery October 24, 1991.

Location C 5 7 1 to C 5 7 2

Acc. No 1991 7

The Chilliwack Fish and Game Club was started sometime between 1900 - 1910 by a game warden named Mr. Cummings. A meeting for the purpose of organizing the Chilliwack Fish and Game Association was held on March 2, 1927. On October 24, 1936 the club registered itself under the Societies Act. The purpose of the club was stated in its constitution: to promote rod and gun contests, to protect fish and game in the district, and to promote ideas to better fishing and hunting conditions.

Name changed from Chilliwack Fish and Game Protective Association and Rifle Club to Chilliwack Fish and Game Protective Association, Feb. 19, 58

This material donated by The Chilliwack Fish and Game Protective Association on January 21, 1991 (Accession no. 991.7).

This fonds consists of club minutes from 1927 to 1988 as well as correspondence and newsletters.

History Note

The Ryder Lake Farmers' Institute was chartered in 1941. It has always been closely associated with the Ryder Lake Women's Institute formed in 1935. The organizations are affiliated with the provincial Farmers' Institute and Women's Institute fostered by the BC Ministry responsible for agriculture to encourage good farming practices and to promote the quality of rural life.

The Ryder Lake Farmers' and Women's Institutes jointly operate the Ryder Lake Community Hall. They organize social events in the community and act as its collective voice in relation to the federal, provincial and municipal governments.

Custodial History

These records were donated to the Chilliwack Archives in 1992 by Gloria Beshara, former Secretary of the Institute.

Scope and Content

This accession contains the 1975-1981 Minute Book of the Institute, correspondence dating from 1951 to 1984, newsletters, and other materials reflecting community life in Ryder Lake.

Some of the Institute's earlier records are held by BC Archives and Records Service, filed as Add.MSS.760 and Add.MSS.990.
